Reduce Tension To Boost Retention

In the land of patient retention, convenience is king. Yet, many dental practices are still using paper forms and manual intake processes that often create traffic jams in their waiting rooms. Talk about a double whammy!

Tensions run high in waiting rooms. Anxious patients watch the clock as minutes feel like hours while front desk staff race against the same clock as they juggle calls, check ins, check outs, payments and more. The longer a patient waits, the quicker the tension turns to frustration.

Patients who wait longer than 20 minutes in a waiting room will almost always leave unsatisfied.

Inputting patient intake paperwork data, especially for new patient registration, is one of the major contributing factors to the waiting room bottleneck. Processing this information is vital to the visit. However, if this process is performed manually after a patient arrives for their appointment, it places a time burden on both the patient and the front desk.

Considering all the time, money and effort dentists put into acquiring their patients, shortening the amount of time a patient sits in your waiting room is essential to patient retention.

Convenience=Loyalty

Convenience is the new loyalty when it comes to patient retention. Research shows that although 78% of patients are generally happy with the care they receive from their providers, 80% would switch to a new provider for convenience factors alone.

Offering a digital intake option is no longer a matter of convenience, it's a key factor in overall patient retention.

However, not all free digital patient forms you find online are created equally. In fact, most free options cause more headaches than they cure.

The Best Online Dental Patient Forms

Ditch PDFs & Clipboards

Gone are the inefficient days of emailing PDF documents for patients to print and complete beforehand or handing over a clipboard in the waiting room. Adit lets you create digital patient forms from scratch or choose from dozens of pre-built options, including COVID-19 screening forms. You can also easily convert all of your current forms into digital format and add the forms to your website.

Automate Patient Check-in

Using Adit is the eco-friendly way to automate tedious patient data management tasks. Adit allows you to send forms ahead of time via text or email. So patients can choose where and when they complete and sign their forms from the convenience of their phone, tablet, or computer before their appointment or complete them on a tablet in your waiting room.

Eliminate Costly Manual Processes

Still Relying On Snail Mail?

How much money would you save each month if you didn't have to print and mail forms to all of your patients?

Still Struggling To Decode Bad Handwriting?

How much time would your team save each week if they didn't have to manually transcribe and enter patient form data field by field in your practice management system?

Switching to Adit's digital patient forms is a low risk decision that will remove the redundancy (and the headache) of manual patient data acquisition and entry processes.

Minimize Human Error

Adit notifies your team each time a form is submitted and allows them to review it before approving. If there's incomplete or incorrect information, your team can quickly send the forms back to your patient for revision.

Once approved, import the form data to your practice management system with a single click.

I love that I have a dedicated account manager and team that is super responsive and collaborative. The offerings are always expanding with new features and capabilities... and without any add on costs! I think Adit must have plans to take over the market space for all things dental. It's such a great way to simplify what could be contracts and systems from a large number of vendors.

By combining multiple operational components of a dental office, I can go to ADIT for most of the practices basic needs. I don't have to go through several companies to run a dental office. I can login into my ADIT app and access all the data I need to continue to drive growth and performance with staff. I also like that we go to ONE single software for multiple uses.

Adit is EXTREMELY helpful with new patient acquisition. The ability to sort data and see, in real-time, what is happening at our practices is invaluable. Their reporting and support is really great too. The software allowed me to get rid of a lot of stand-alone products that I was having to log into and maintain (and pay for!)
